For six centuries, the Ottomans had ruled over three continents and seven seas.

On the ruins of the Ottoman Empire, a whole new world was created. That is the purpose of this two-part film: analysing these new lines of fracture in order to remind how the Ottoman past still matters. Without appropriate knowledge and understanding of this page of history, no one could pretend grasping fully the current political, religious and ethnic challenges of our present time - in Bosnia, in Kosovo, in Turkey, in Lebanon, in Syria, in Israel, in Palestine, in Irak...

From Gamal Abdel Nasser to Anwar Sadat, to Hosni Mubarak, the series follows the path of the successive regimes in power, and reveals their common goal to carefully lay the basis of a solid independence, but which, on the other hand, led to the revolution on Tahrir Square in 2011.

Mussolini's mistress and advisor, remains a nearly forgotten woman in the Duce's entourage. 20 years of intense, loving, and reciprocal passion. For Mussolini, Margherita was his shadow, his phantom, and his speechwriter. She was the Duce's "other wife". She was Jewish.

Born in 1880 in a 15th-century palace on the edge of the old ghetto of Venice, Margherita Salfatti spent the rest of her youth in the Palazzo Bembo on the Grand Canal. Her father wanted her to have the best tutors.

But that did not prevent her from becoming a militant socialist and, later, one of the most listened to members of the party, and yet, an avant-garde feminist. Her salon, first in Milan then in Rome, attracted famous composers, writers, and artists from Italy and abroad. She loved to collect "precious people".

In helping to create the Novecento Italiano, the artistic movement dedicated to Fascism, she gathered the leading figures of the day. In 1923, she had the first Novecento exhibition in Milan opened by her lover, Benito Mussolini.

By going back over the key events of the last two centuries of social history, No Gods, No Masters reveals, for the first time, the origins and destiny of a political trend that has been fighting all masters and all gods for over 150 years.

Who exactly are they? Where do those who have always called themselves anarchists come from, and what is their line of thought? Given that they have been tracked, hunted down and shut away, why are their faces not familiar to us? Why do we consider their thinking to be confused and their history such a cause for concern?

Featuring previously unseen and forgotten archive footage, in addition to outstanding documentation and accounts by world experts, this documentary series recounts the history of a movement that from Paris to New York, and from Tokyo to Buenos Aires, has constantly imbued the world with its freedom and revolt.

Soviet archives house the only filmed memories of the Holocaust. Taken on the fly, these images represent reality. But what reality?

Following the German invasion, the Soviets decided to put their know-how into practice and to film the enemy's fearsome extermination machine, for their own purposes. The images of war from the period were inspired by a cinematographic tradition of aestheticism, but were also dependent on political considerations. This strategy of "war-by-image" creates a black hole: the identity of the victims. The Jews are forgotten. Mentioning the Jews goes against the idea of a Great Patriotic War. Examining the images recorded during this dark period means looking anew at what was not filmed, but also at the messages transmitted and the arrangements made with the truth. Do "images-as-truth" lie?

Over two films, this documentary reveals the formation and disintegration, within our own time, of a neighbouring European State named Yugoslavia.

Part One covers the period from 1918 to 1980, the year of Marshal Tito's death, and explores the circumstances surrounding Yugoslavia's foundation, as well as the years of unity beneath the banner of Tito's version of communism. Part Two (1980-2001) concerns the catastrophic circumstances that befell the country from the dissolution of communism up until its final collapse during the five fratricidal wars. Weaved into Part Two will be an exploration of the current state of affairs in the former Yugoslavian States today, from which vital lessons can be drawn for contemporary fissiparous struggles in the Ukraine and elsewhere.

Estimated at 7 billion Euros a year, the traffic of art is the third largest traffic activity in the world, after drugs and weapons. It constitutes the grounds for a global clash between States, traffickers, auction houses, collectors and NGOs.

How is the traffic of art encouraged and used to legitimise authority, whether economic or political? From Paris to Beijing, via Geneva and Luxembourg, this documentary, in the form of an international investigation, highlights the double talk by States in relation to the traffic of cultural property, as well as the rise of the private players who benefit from it.

An unprecedented and chilling investigation into the invisible weapon of Bashar al-Assad's regime: the kidnapping, torture and murder of tens of thousands of Syrians.

Images of the first peaceful protests of March 2011 have become a vague, almost fanciful memory. The Syria of 2015 has sunk into civil war and absolute chaos. Chaos caused by the over-mediatised brutality of the self proclaimed Islamic State. Chaos, also and above all, caused by the invisible and little known weapon of Bashar al-Assad's regime: the kidnapping, torture and murder, since 2011, of tens of thousands of Syrians - up to 200,000 of them, depending on the source.

Countless disappearances reveal the relentless death machine secretly set up by Damascus: teenagers are rounded up in their schools, protesters are sent in trucks to unknown destinations, and passers-by are arbitrarily arrested. For the first time, families in exile, survivors, but also accomplices of the Alawite regime, lay bare the strategy the Syrian dictatorship uses in order to remain in power at all costs. According to Munir al-Hariri, who served the Assads until November 2012, "the objective is not murder, but to prove the State's strength and tyranny. The objective is to kill some to teach a lesson to others".

Today, people are being subjected to a new form of insecurity - in the form of access to energy. In under a decade, electricity bills have rocketed by over 20%! How can an increase of this magnitude be justified? And could the price hike have been avoided?

A lack of political foresight, self-centeredness on the part of States, poor management by industrialists and European Commission dogmatism... is Europe on the verge of a blackout? This investigation endeavours to reveal the series of decisions that have led to this new form of insecurity, to this situation in which citizens lack the power to control access to energy.

Who? When? How? Why? This series immerses us in the chaos at the dark heart of crime fiction, taking us on journey through the labyrinthine workings of the whodunnit, with many a shudder along the way.

Nowadays, one published novel in four is a "roman noir", a "thriller" or a "detective story". How did crime fiction come to be so popular that it is now a universal language everyone can understand?

Through interviews with present-day creators of crime fiction, Part 1 of Anatomy of Crime Fiction analyses the fateful trio of the victim, the murderer and the detective, piecing together a profile of the 3 emblematic figures who provide the starting-point for all good whodunnits, while Parts 2 and 3 explore locations and plots.

Fashion loves a scandal. In fact, it only progresses thanks to scandals - from the juicy to the thorny, to the spicy to the laughable.

There are various types of scandal in fashion, and this series endeavours to examine all of them, in a humorous light, seeking the fly in the ointment, the revealing or raunchy anecdote. Loïc Prigent wants to reveal fashion's state of mind, and one of its principles: how to get ahead if you don't respect a thing. Fashion thinks outside the box - and therefore frequently clashes, often for better, sometimes for worse - and sometimes for the grotesque.

Shortly after the Second World War, Parisian haute couture experienced an extraordinary revival epitomised by Dior's New Look, Givenchy's elegance, Chanel's style and Balenciaga's sophistication. It was a golden age, but it was also a swan song - the last blaze of glory of a world that had become an anachronism.

Through the intertwined careers of the great couturiers of the period and their eccentric, immensely rich customers, Paris Couture conjures up a world that has vanished forever - the world of the great couture houses, with its fancy dress balls and salons.

During those 25 years, the couturiers were able to give their imaginations a free rein, indulging in every possible extravagance, but the democratization of fashion, the advent of the leisure society and increasingly affordable air travel were to hasten the decline of haute couture.

Haute Couture is the Acropolis of fashion. It is majestic, impressive and somewhat in ruins - but it remains a symbol. Its biggest shortcoming is that not many people really know what Haute Couture is anymore, often confusing it with luxury Ready-to-Wear. So what exactly is Haute Couture?

"It is doxa, a guarantee of quality, a Parisian tradition, a fashion reserved for an elite, a price range, clients, couturiers (and no longer creators), and a media platform. In this documentary, I want to explain what Haute Couture is through the detailed filming of a week of Haute Couture fashion shows in Paris" explains Loïc Prigent.

AN EDUCATIONAL UTOPIA

Following World War I, in a traumatised Europe, educationalists believed that a world without violence was possible.

In France, Germany, the United Kingdom, Poland, the USSR and Italy, figures like Maria Montessori, Célestin Freinet, Ovide Decroly and Alexander S. Neill profoundly changed ideas on education, through a child-centred approach to teaching.

The rise to power of totalitarian ideologies hit their utopian dream with full force.

DORINE FREE AS A BIRD

Left paralysed by an aeroplane crash, Dorine Bourneton was determined to fulfil her dream of becoming the first disabled female aerobatics pilot.

Dorine had always wanted to fly. But in May 1991, when she was just 16, tragedy intervened. The small Piper aircraft she was a passenger on hit the side of Mount Mézenc, in the Haute-Loire area of France. Dorine was the sole survivor of the crash. She lost the use of her legs, but not the passion for flying she shared with her father. As Sam Caro's documentary charts her struggles and shows how she sets about achieving her goal, Dorine emerges as a woman of exceptional courage and talent. It takes us up to June 2015, when she was about to become the first disabled woman ever to perform an aerobatics display at the Paris Air Show.

Despite the fact that there have been many changes over time in the way anorexia is viewed on a societal, cultural and medical level, the condition remains an enigma

This film is presented in the form of an international investigation into the way the condition is evolving and the way in which anorexia and its treatment take on the interpretations of their era. What is anorexia nervosa? Is it a form of hysteria or psychosis, an addiction or a borderline state? A perversion? A hormonal disorder? A neurological disorder? An eating disorder? A body-image disorder?

For centuries, descriptions and interpretations of the condition - some conflicting, some complementary - have followed on from one another. This illness of mind and body resists any exclusively biological or exclusively psychoanalytical approach. The body, which becomes a battleground, bears the brunt of this relationship and dependency disorder.

HD

The film focuses on the "enigma" of anorexia (the pursuit of maximum thinness) rather than on the wider field of eating disorders, which would include too many diverse notions.

This collection takes an original look at contemporary gardens focusing on examples of the most recent landscaping. We learn from those who find innovative and creative solutions that provide poetic breathing spaces in an increasingly urbanised world.

Landscape architect Jean-Philippe Teyssier takes us on a discovery of the most beautiful gardens in France and elsewhere in Europe. The gardeners, landscapers, horticulturalists, architects, historians and estate managers he meets reveal the art of gardening. They show us how gardens have been designed, planted and maintained over the centuries. The exceptional gardens Jean-Philippe Teyssier visits are a myriad of passions, journeys, colours and shapes.

Sarah Schwartz has been travelling the world, from big top to big top, for over twenty years. She has made the circus her world. A high wire at her feet leads her from one country to the next.

In this collection, she invites us behind the scenes of the circus dream, revealing its highly singular world. Taking part in a convoy with Sarah Schwarz means discovering a country in a different way: through the steamed up window of a caravan, a different shade of world goes past, a nomadic world, a world of freedom.

With Sarah, we set out to discover a universe that will help us understand the countries visited, bringing us wisdom and knowledge, but also magic and poetry. From the family circus to contemporary circus, from the travelling circus to the permanent circus, we discover countries that are different from each other, yet are all planets in the same galaxy. Roll up, roll up, for a magical, brightly coloured world tour!

Are biopesticides - micro-organisms that fight pests naturally - the promise of a chemical-free agriculture? Farmers all over the world are converting to biopesticides, stimulated by scientific research that is opening up new perspectives. But is the technique risk-free for the environment?

Invertebrates, insects, mites, fungi, bacteria, viruses ... these living mini-organisms that scientists are studying in great detail worldwide, will here make light work of pests. Today they are our best hope of a pesticide-free agriculture that is so harmful to man and the environment.

So are biopesticides revolutionary? In Europe, Brazil and India, millions of farmers have already adopted bioprotectors. Today, the agro-chemical industry is investing heavily in the sector, but promising as it is, the technique is still far from being infallible, and is not entirely devoid of risk to the ecosystem.

Through the correspondence between the actress Marion Cotillard, a climate change activist, and Marinel, a young Filipino, we explore the coasts left devastated by one of the greatest natural disasters ever recorded on the island, as well as solutions for preserving the future of the region.

In 2013 the Super Typhoon Haiyan hit the coasts of the Philippines, destroying towns and villages. Over 6000 people were killed and millions were left homeless. The film follows 16-year-old Marinel, one of many Filipinos taking action to save the archipelago from climate change-related catastrophes, through her encounters with individuals who have refused to abandon hope and are working to safeguard the Philippines. The journey ends on a note of triumph at the COP21 Climate Conference in Paris, where Marinel is propelled into the role of spokesperson and rubs shoulders with leading figures in the fight against climate change.

Human consciousness, which is unique in the living world, has remained a mystery of divine origin for thousands of years. But today, recent and spectacular scientific progress (from medical imagery to quantum physics) is starting to shed light on it.

I think therefore I am. But who thinks inside of us? Who are we? This film takes us on a journey beyond our brains. Like conscience, human intelligence has propelled Man to the peak of evolution, giving him the opportunity to dominate the world. And yet today, intelligence would see to have broken down. Average IQ is dropping. Through this investigation into the nature of intelligence and multiple intelligences, we discover the reasons for this breakdown, and how we can give our intelligence another boost, thanks to scientific progress, including brain cell transplants.

Scientists have proved that the mental faculties of high-performance athletes' are superior to the average brain. Today, psycho-cognitive training is carried out in certain major clubs and Olympic team, to push sportsmen and women even further. Studies now demonstrate its efficiency.

The performance of athletes has evolved considerably over the last twenty years, and the extraordinary talent of certain super-trained, veritable winning-machines is intriguing neuroscientists. As a result of technological progress, scientists now have the tools to be able to understand exactly what lies behind the talent of these unstoppable champions.

Through careful observation of outstanding athletes' brains, scientists have identified mechanisms of learning and gesture memorisation, in the core of these athletes' neurons.

They have been able to observe to what extent intensive physical training modifies the cerebral cortex, which gives high-performance sportspeople greater rapidity and more precision than anyone else in their particular sport. But the beneficial effects of their daily sports practice do not stop there; it also increases their cognitive capacities. More attentive and able to control their concentration effectively, these athletes use superior intelligence to read and anticipate their opponents' moves.

Will we soon be conceiving and growing babies outside women's bodies?

The very first baby conceived following a womb transplant was born in Sweden in 2014. The film relates this scientific undertaking, which has ignited hope among the 1 in 5,000 women born without a uterus, as well as among women who have lost their wombs to cancer or an accident. In France, two medical teams are currently preparing to embark upon a protocol designed for a small group of young women who do not have wombs. This medical exploit marks a new chapter in the fight against sterility. And as medical advances meet the concerns of society, transsexuals and homosexuals view it as the opportunity to experience pregnancy themselves. The prospect of babies developing entirely outside the womb in an artificial uterus is getting closer.

In 19th century Paris, for both political and economic reasons, Parisian prostitution became a social phenomenon on an unprecedented scale. From the seedy part of town to the salons of the wealthy bourgeoisie, Paris became the capital of sex.

During this industrial revolution era, doctors and moralists, cops and robbers, bosses and workers all used prostitution - and it inevitably attracted artists.

From the mid 19th century, it was as though prostitution had become a central, key theme of artistic creation. The film recounts the rise and metamorphosis of prostitution in the 19th century, through the eyes of artists, and the pictorial revolution that accompanied it.

By exploring the representation of prostitution in 19th century arts, the film dwells on this very specific moment in the history of the "world's oldest profession".

Diego Velázquez, the artist ceaselessly in search of the human truth through the treatment of the light and the space and in the way he roams around things, is a documentary maker before his time. His work full of boldness marks an essential stage in the history of paint.

From the paints of Velázquez and especially what gets free of it, the movie goes off to explore the peculiarity of the "painter of the painters" and of the artistic and esthetic revolution which Diego Velázquez caused. Since the "Venus with a Mirror" up to the mirror of Ménines, the movie escapes any didacticism and attempts to recreate the exceptional emotional link between the work of Velázquez and the look of the public, between the eye of the painter and the one of the spectator. Between his life and our lives.

Plunge into Parisian life at the turn of the 20th Century with Picasso, Dali, Apollinaire, Man Ray, Kiki and more...

Adapted from Dan Franck's literary trilogy Bohemian Paris, Libertad!, Midnight - The documentary series made up of six episodes plunges us into Parisian life in the beginning of the twentieth century, a hotbed of artistic creation with the blossoming of Fauvism, Cubism, Dadaism, and surrealism.

Through illustrations, animation and original archives, the film will trace the highs and lows, scandals and celebrations, tragedies and the triumphs that shaped the phenomenal period of Modern Art from the basement of the "Bateau-lavoir" in 1900 to the last shudders of World War II.

The main characters are called Picasso, Max Jacob, Stein, Apollinaire, Hemingway, Matisse, Cocteau, Kiki... artists, art dealers, muses who came to France from all over Europe and left an indelible mark on the 20th century. These glorious subversives were adventurers before becoming heroes.

Since 2012, China has been the world number one in art sales. Who are these artists? What drives them and how do they combat censorship?

Contemporary Chinese art was finally able to take off after Mao's death. Artists have revisited Western art and some have hijacked Communist propaganda, adding to it a criticism of the Western consumerism that is sweeping the country. Art is well placed to observe the excesses of Chinese society, and has become the flag bearer for aspirations to freedom. These contemporary works symbolise people's wounds and hardships, and State violence.

Although two artists - Basquiat and Koons - constitute 50% of the American market, China has 47 artists in the top 100, and nearly half them are newcomers.

HD

Through personal encounters with the most original and avant-garde artists, in their workshops or during performances, this film sets out to understand their work and what motivates them, as well as looking at how they fight censorship.

Balthus, Fragonard, Berlioz and Debussy all stayed there. Up until now, little has been said about the Villa Medici, but the veil is lifting. The Villa, which houses the French Academy in Rome founded 350 years ago, reveals its history alongside that of its residents.

Our guides are art historians, restorers, current and former residents, and directors and curators. The documentary takes a unique plunge into the intimate history of the place that is admired by many and criticized by some, but considered universally to be a "Dolce Villa".

Leading contemporary artists delegate whole sections of the production of their works. Increasingly today, contemporary art is the result of a collective effort.

Engineers, designers, architects, artisans, workers, glass-makers, smelters, blacksmiths, coppersmiths, jewellery-makers, "highbrows" and "helping hands", whether they possess high-tech or ancestral know-how - they all work in the shadows to produce today's art. We follow the production of two works, created by two leading international artists - Xavier Veilhan and Wim Delvoe - from conception to completion.

This documentary film explores the secret inspiration and the little known influences of a painter whose canvasses are much less naïve than they appear to be.

Henri Rousseau, referred to as "le Douanier", started to paint in Paris around 1880, at the age of 40. This self-taught artist was friendly with the poet Apollinaire, Robert Delaunay and Pablo Picasso, who recognised his genius, and yet his work was to remain underrated during his lifetime. However, with its dislocated compositions and profoundly dreamlike subject matter, it was to have a decisive influence on modern art, from surrealism to abstract art.

This collection explores history of art in a totally new way. Each film is a journey, an investigation and an adventure. The painting comes to life, as animation overrides the limits of the frame, taking us to the heart of the canvass and plunging us into its era and history.

The great works of the past portray abundant testimonies, and are imbued with secrets and are teeming with mysteries. Beneath the surface of the painting, details awaken, to recount the spirit of the times and the vagaries of History, such as wars, revolutions, economic transformation, scientific discovery, beliefs and schools of thought.

This highly visual and accessible documentary combines an in-the-moment perspective as well as a historical one. It sparks curiosity and a desire to find out more about the subject. Viewers will find themselves wanting to delve into coffee-table books or take a trip to a museum.

Ask people to name 5 photographers, from past or present, and the chances are that few will think to name a woman. Yet since Photography was first invented, women have made an incontestable contribution to the art form. With Photography being very much in vogue, it is a fitting time to dedicate a film to women photographers and to set the record straight on their little-known talents.

An aviation pioneer and an airmail carrier hero, Antoine de Saint-Exupéry rose to world fame with "The Little Prince", which continues to be one of the best-selling books in the world.

During his lifetime, Saint-Exupéry dreamed of a better world. His startling death and his commitment to the point of sacrifice reveal a heroism that make him one of the last great romantics. "To be a man is, precisely, to be responsible. It is to feel, when setting one's stone, that one is contributing to the building of the world". Extract from "Wind, Sand and Stars"

Between eclecticism and accessibility, this series traces the outline of an original history of dance in the 20th century, striving to show how it is rooted in society.

A rapid, dazzling 3-part panorama centred on nudity, atypical bodies and feet.

3 brand new documentaries explore the major figures of group dance, duet and solo.

Examining these figures takes us to the very heart of the practice of dance - the multiple forms of dance - reflecting on their techniques, sensuality, discipline, body language, physical characteristics, reasoning and lineage. The collection follows the creative process of solo, duet and group choreography, and in doing so, sheds light on the elements that have forged their history.

This fascinating portrait is for anyone who has ever been captivated by Alain Delon's dashing good looks, and for anyone who wants to know more about the man behind the mask. By the end of the film they will view this famous French icon in a totally different light.

A portrait of Alain Delon that sets out to remove the masks of this defence-ridden, international icon - for the very first time. The portrait focuses entirely on its main subject - it is "pure Delon", with no other interviewees. Via numerous film excerpts, it follows the actor's path right from the start. Delon speaks in a series of surprising interviews, spanning nearly 50 years. At the end of this breathtaking journey, a new vision emerges: Alain Delon, the man of 87 movies and the most handsome face in French cinema, remains a mystery.

The word "Borsalino" today designates a felt hat. The Borsalino family brand has become a household name, like that of Tupperware, Kleenex or Walkman.

The quality felt hat, born in a small family factory in Alessandria in the 1850s, rose in status from manufactured object to veritable international myth when the craftsmanship of a small provincial town met the Hollywood dream. This film recounts the history of the manufacture of this myth, which has close ties to the history of cinema in the early 20th century.

In 1926, he was at the peak of his glory and wealth. By 1933, he had reached rock bottom. How, in the space of a few years, did Buster Keaton, the uncontested genius of silent films, go from the status of being a widely-worshipped star to an alcoholic and solitary fallen idol?

With a spotlight on the 7 years during which his life changed, using extracts of Keaton's films as magnifying mirrors, the film recounts the dramatic life of this creative genius and the Hollywood studios. Was it yet another episode of the never-ending struggle to hold onto one's freedom in the face of financiers?

This animated mini-series is based on Marion Montaigne's popular and irreverent science blog. Professor Moustache and his assistant Nathanaël demystify science on screen and day-to-day.

"You'll Die Smarter" is for those who skipped biology or physics lessons but who vaguely remember what gravity and white blood cells are, and who think that lasers are cool, but would like to know a bit more. And if possible, not have to make too much of an effort, oh, and also have fun. Because learning the fun way is the best way to remember it all.

How far does a prawn travel before ending up in a supermarket? How much time goes by between the time a cow arrives and the time its meat is refrigerated in the form of a steak?

Focusing on industrially produced goods, "Product"'s subjective camera accesses various manufacturing chains in different countries. Combining a fascination for the processes with a form of unveiling, the series documents the various stages of manufacture, and sets out to meet the communities and discover the technologies involved in them. "Product" aims to decode a globalised industry in which the end products mask the realities of their manufacture.

Bad Mother. Bad Mistress. Workplace physician.

Isabelle Adjani is Carole Matthieu - a workplace physician employed in a call center who has become emotionally involved in the suffering of her humiliated coworkers, exposed to both physical and emotional violence. Powerless to stop the endless flow of employees that come to see her on a daily basis, she decides to take action one evening.

When one employee, whom she has previously saved from a suicide attempt, comes to see her, she decides to end it all... for him. In a frantic race against time, police search for a culprit, unions dither on the stance they should take, and the management tries to keep up a front, to hold on to their market share.

Despite these obstacles, and the doubt and guilt consuming her, the slayer-cum-saviour workplace angel is determined to recount "the other story", using notes, letters and medical records. The story of men and women, crushed under the mechanics of performance and profit.

This drama is Valeria Bruni Tedeschi's adaptation of Anton Chekhov's favourite play.

In a small garrison town, lost in the middle of the Russian countryside, three young women, who arrived there with their late father, a former brigade commander, dream of returning to Moscow where they spent their childhood. Entertained by military visits, the sisters find a semblance of a life. Macha, who married her dull husband at too early an age, falls in love with a commander. Olga finds renewed enthusiasm for life and Irina becomes engaged to a lieutenant.

But it is soon time for the troops to leave, the youngest sister's fiancé dies in a duel, and solitude once again takes over the lives of these three women, who become disillusioned recluses. The chronicle of several years of a life on the fringes of history and modernity, this four-act drama is an ironic portrayal of a youth without perspective or illusion, as though frozen in a deadly era. The strange mirror of a drifting country, Three Sisters captures the image of a society on the brink of a destiny that cannot be, and that is aware of its imminent end.

With: Eric RUF, Bruno RAFFAELLI, Florence VIALA, Coraly ZAHONERO, Laurent STOCKER, Michel VUILLERMOZ, Elsa LEPOIVRE, Gilles DAVID, Stéphane VARUPENNE, Georgia SCALLIET, Danièle LEBRUN and Michel ROBIN, Bernard NISSILE from the Comédie-Française.

Gutenberg is responsible for the most significant invention of the medieval period: movable type printing. How could such an invention have come about in 15th-century Europe?

This ambitious docudrama aims at showing exactly that: the struggle of an inventor who challenged the society of his time. This is an epic tale, with a protagonist who is by turns tenacious, cantankerous, shrewd, bold, cunning, epicurean, and passionate. It is a timeless story full of challenges, visionary ideas, alliances and betrayals. The birth of printing and Gutenberg's adventurous life make up the rollicking tale of an invention that would change the world.

A museum without any works of art, a cemetery without any graves, a Unesco listed site, yet without any trace of heritage... Thousands of visitors are coming here every day in numbers and from all around the world, without really knowing what they're looking for.

You might be a simple tourist, a curator, a guide, a student, a research worker or an engineer, it's actually all about one thing, one task in this place : fighting against time and its effects on things and people.

Here's the Auschwitz-Birkenau museum, as it appears to us: vestiges, ruins, traces. Some barbed wires, some barracks, some birches...

Do they have a role or a mission today? Which one?

To show the Russian Revolution in a new light, we recount it as though for the first time, through a narrative that is immersed in the reality of the events from February to October 1917.

The aim is to arouse in viewers something similar to the dizzying blend of elation and anxiety experienced by the actors of the Revolution - in their presence, hearing their own words, and seeing things from their perspective. This calls for a dual narrative - one immediate, sensitive and unpredictable: Maxim Gorky, the other cold, like history, tactical, always planning the next move: Vladimir Ilyich Lenin.

Both the writer and the leader of the revolution were haunted by the failure of the last great European revolution, the Paris Commune in 1871. But they drew diametrically opposed lessons from it, as borne out in their obsessions and their temperaments.

The 9/11 attacks in 2001 upended the approach of security experts and changed the face of world nuclear safety. Faced with the recent developments in world terrorism, what new defence strategies do nuclear countries possess when it comes to defending their nuclear power production sites, classed as "essential operators" in France?

How to prevent the theft of material with a view to making a dirty bomb? How to safeguard stocks of plutonium and highly enriched uranium? Whose responsibility is it? Who recommends what action should be taken? Who oversees the overall measures that are carried out? Who foots the bill?

An investigation among strategists and defence agencies of several nuclear countries, in the US, France and Germany. But also among independent experts, former industry leaders, former members of safety authorities, political leaders, and associations that denounce an insufficient consideration of certain flaws.

By comparing these two visions of nuclear safety, the film questions the viability of an industry that is unlike any other, confronted with emerging threats that had not been previously envisaged.

Myanmar and its 55 million inhabitants are facing unprecedented changes.

After more than fifty years of dictatorship, the military junta has been conceding a series of major reforms : the release of political prisoners, no more press censorship, release of Aung San Suu Kyi...

Myanmar is now living its own perestroika. The backbone of a still very traditional society, will the Buddhist Order be shaken by these changes, by the society's modernization and the new democracy? Will it be galvanized by the ideas of the ultranationalist Wirathu ?

10 years ago, people started hearing what, for them, was a relatively new word in the Western European political arena and the media - the Roma. They hastily associated the word with begging, trafficking and a mafia network - and even referred simply to the "Roma problem"!

This straight-talking investigation travels to all four corners of Europe, from East to West, in search of the answers, in a bid to understand the phenomenon, to sift truth from myth, and to discover the reality behind the clichés. It examines issues such as nomadism, economic transition, positive discrimination, the racialization of social problems, delinquency, European Union expansion and transitional measures.

This film also explores the role the European Union plays in the process of stigmatisation of the Roma. Today in both East and West, extreme-right wing parties - but not solely these parties - are using the Roma as a tool to rise to power. What weight does the EU carry in relation to the Nation states? And more importantly, what are its values?

Between 1895 and 1945 Japan was constantly at war in South-East Asia. After its defeat in 1945, Japan pushed the population to turn inward to a strong and revisionist nationalist power. But is this ideology from the past a threat to its present democracy?

The documentary is built around present footage in four places that resonate with Japan's past, i.e. Tokyo, a place where electoral issues coalesce; Manchuria, the region conquered by Japanese imperialism; Okinawa and American post-war occupation; and Nagasaki, the symbol of modern-day Japan. These places make it possible to shed light on Japan's confrontations with the West, the geopolitical tensions in South-East Asia and Japan's democratic politics.

Three people kill themselves every day in France because they've become trapped in a vicious spiral of debt.

All over Europe, household over-indebtedness is on the rise; it's a ticking time bomb. Though it doesn't always lead to suicide, it often causes a 'little death' of economic and social exclusion and serious psychological distress, a nightmare from which it is extremely hard to escape.

An investigative documentary that examines the alarming and inexorable rise of household over-indebtedness throughout Europe, and the battle against this economic, social and human scourge.

Evolution takes place before our very eyes in these incredible stories of species that appear to be entering a new phase in their development.

This new episode returns to the subject of evolution. It challenges the common assumption that today's world is the culmination of a long process of evolution - as if that process had come to an end. We are so obsessed with the notion of conservation that we see nature as fixed and immutable. We have forgotten that nature is changing all the time - that despite or even because of current threats to the ecological balance of the planet, species are still adapting to their circumstances.

From France to Indonesia, young engineer Corentin de Chatelperron and his crew sail their catamaran Nomad of the Seas on a quest for self-sufficiency. The aim of their "low-tech" world tour is to find simple solutions to universal problems.

Corentin and his organization Gold of Bengal have launched a challenge to experts, students, organizations, do-it-yourselfers and scientists all over the world to invent "low tech" systems - simple methods that help human beings reclaim their independence. These techniques require a great deal of ingenuity and talent but a low level of financial resources.

During each stopover - which constitutes each episode - we discover a particular aspect of a country through the topic covered, such as the desalination of seawater in Morocco, electronics recycling in Togo and the consumption of insects in Thailand. For each stopover, the crew meets low-tech inventors and innovators, who are seeking to solve universal problems of food, energy, water and material resources.

HD

The series follows the first year of the expedition. As the crew clock up their successes, some failures and various experiments, the boat gradually undergoes a transformation, becoming increasingly autonomous, thanks to the low-tech systems it has adopted.

The Gates of Hell is Auguste Rodin's artistic triumph. For which he created such masterpieces as The Kiss and The Thinker. The one that occupied him for 20 years of his life... and that he never saw completed. The one that was his heaven and hell... Divino#Inferno.

?Through the thrilling story of this door's creation, visual artist, photographer and filmmaker Bruno Aveillan draws a fascinating portrait of the sculptor's unrivaled esthetic quality - a sculptor who was probably the first modernist and certainly the one who gave sculpture its credibility.

The 19th century is like no other. An aesthetic, scientific and political bubbling is changing the face of the world. Paris is a genuine cultural hub. An intellectual and artistic elite was formed including Auguste Rodin. Bold and gifted, he and others altered this era forever.

Rodin's destiny is both singular and closely context related. Fed by a public and private correspondence, this film will draw the strands of his life and reminds the background when required. However, it will be anything but a commemoration : Rodin is still alive because eternal. In Paris, his sculptures are an integral part of the urban decor : The Penseur and Balzac at Varenne subway station, the D'Alembert at the town Hall... Through constant back and forth between past and present, this film is about Rodin's spirit, forever among us.

This documentary recounts the architectural and cultural adventure of the construction of the Louvre Abu Dhabi museum. We take a behind-the-scenes look at the creation of the universal museum, from the creative process initiated by architect Jean Nouvel to the construction of a universal art museum designed for a desert climate in a modern city.

Viewers will discover how this architectural concept, which plays on the relationship between interior and exterior, in ever-changing light, provides a link between tradition and modernity, and lays down a bridge between cultures. At the crossroads of the West and the Middle East, this film also reveals the educational and cultural challenges of the making of the Louvre Abu Dhabi.

Who was Raymond Loewy? A designer with the golden touch - such a genius that he could cross the US by air, rail, or road, stylishly seated in a plane, train, or automobile he'd designed himself!

French designer Raymond Loewy was a star when the American Way of Life was at its flamboyant capitalist peak. He styled his own destiny as a Hollywood thriller. After all, he was a tycoon, a New York celebrity. Yet by the end of his life, he'd been forgotten. He took the mystery of his iconic Coca-Cola bottle to the grave with him. The bigger they are, the harder they fall: One day, megalomania got the better of Loewy, and he came to a tragic end. Suspense, drama, twists of fate: Loewy invented the medium as the message.

The event that creates trans-European shared memories since decades.

Each May, 40 European and not-so-European countries from Ireland to Azerbaijan send pop groups or singers to represent them in a contest between nations, filmed simultaneously by multiple television channels. With its classic pop numbers, catchy refrains, razzamatazz and over-the-top lighting, the annual ritual of the Eurovision Song Contest has held audiences spellbound for decades. Each country sees it differently. The Scandinavians and East Europeans love it. The French and British are more ambivalent. But year after year, it goes on attracting the biggest television audiences in the world. Almost 200 million viewers switch on to cheer their favourites. This documentary explores the enduring fascination of the Eurovision.

For the first time one of Hollywood's greatest stars tells his own story, in his own words. From a childhood of poverty to global fame, Cary Grant, the ultimate self-made star, explores his own screen image and what it took to create it.

Cary Grant is one of the most enduring icons of the Hollywood golden era. Described by the film historian and biographer David Thomson as the greatest screen actor of all time, Grant is without doubt the actor whose style as the suave and elegant man-in-the-suit has remained iconic and modern: his image is still used in advertising and inspired Don Draper in Mad Men.
