STREETOSPHERE

Via various capitals, this series immerses the viewer in urban cultures.

Without pretext or pretence, our two guides look behind walls, under pavements, and up on rooftops, to find artists that are reinventing urban spaces, turning them into their recreation grounds. A lively, human, impromptu and out-of-the-ordinary approach to rediscovering Berlin, Amsterdam, Madrid or Prague.

STREETOSPHERE - AMSTERDAM

In this metropolis with a village-like atmosphere, allow yourself to be transported by a charming stroll to the heart of urban art.

You'll love Jim Bowes' "reverse graffiti", meeting Thomas and Bas (founders of the Panopticon project) and Léon Keer, who uses chalk for his ground paintings.

Tanguy and Quentin discover Brittany through its artists.

In Saint-Malo, Roger Gicquel, a former student at the Beaux Arts school of Rennes, sculpts the beach of his childhood with hand and knife. His wonderfully realistic, ephemeral creations attract the attention of passers-by. Liliwenn spray-paints the walls of Brest. And Gaël Maurin gives new life to wood.

Tanguy and Quentin travel to Hamburg, Karl Lagerfeld's place of birth, and discover the city's robust artistic identity.

Along the Elbe, the Zonenkinder couple give life to trees, reinventing the city with their dreams. The Mentalgassi group also leaves its mark on the city, transforming street furniture in a particularly expressive way. Art in Hamburg no longer belongs to its museums. It has taken to the streets, inspiring artists.

Tanguy and Quentin discover the home city of the croissant through Tobias Batik, a young 15 year-old artist who livens up the streets he considers dull and boring.

At just 15 years of age, Tobias wants to challenge people through his art. We discover an incredible, colourful and lively urban environment in a wonderful expression of street art. A couple of travellers, Jana and Js, then share their urban melancholy with us, but also their vision and passion. Finally, Ziya Azazi reclaims space, drawing the public into his dances.
